I owe a lot to Sri Ajay Kumar, Routine Analyst (Soils) for his help & dedicated work during the project period. Secretarial assistance of Sri B.K. Prasad is gratefully acknowledged. I hope the compiled report of NAE will inspire young scientists and extension workers to understand the imperative need to manage soil and water resources for higher agricultural production over the years to meet the challenges of food and nutritional security for the growing population. In my view, programme of this nature with ICAR is a boon for the state to bring about radical changes in the existing scenario & implement progressive policies for economic security of farmers.
